Dear Kari,

Thank you for making time in your busy schedule to give the presentation on Caregiving and Brain Fitness for our Lunch and Learn series this week. You were a big hit! I heard from many of the participants after the program expressing how much they enjoyed and learned in the short hour that you were with us. Your approach to these important topics is respectful, humorous, direct, and engaging. I know that we all left the room motivated to engage our families in more meaningful dialog. I've spoken with our benefits coordinator and you have a standing invitation to come back and speak again the next time that you are in Chicago. With more notice, I'm sure that we will have quite a crowd for you. In addition, I am going to talk to some of the folks in our health care department about putting together a program with / for clients. I'm sure that you would be a tremendous keynote speaker for such an event.

Here are just some of the comments I received this week:

“She managed to pack so much information in such a short time - it was great!”
“Thanks. Kari was a riot -- very informative and good humored about a serious topic.”
“Can we get her for our group?”

I have had some additional inquiries about your availability to speak at other events and will forward them directly to you.

Warm Regards,

Susan
